

Open Office Converter

The Open Office Converter is used for the system in essential cases and must be set-up. For example, this converter is used in order to generate a PDF from a WordTemplateHandler.

Installing the Open Office Converter

If the converter is not already installed, it may be downloaded under the following link: Download. Another file named install_document_service.bat should now be found in the folder. This must be executed as an administrator by right-clicking on the icon.

If the installation runs correctly, the TIM-DocumentConnectors service should be displayed in the list of executed service in the Windows task manager.
